

AN.ON

Lessons learned from developing and operating an anonymous communication service

Scientific Seminar

Dr. Stefan Köpsell
(Technische Universität Dresden)

Location: Faculty of Computer Science, Iași
31 March, 12:00 - Room C308

AN.ON is an anonymous communication system allowing users to browse the Web anonymously, operated as a public service since 2000. This talk will explain the design of AN.ON and will present lessons learned from operating the service, including conflicts with law enforcement. Finally, open research questions regarding both AN.ON as well as other anonymous communication systems will be discussed.
